Dear Ms. Wilson:

First let me thank you for your very quick response to my letter of November 7, 2009!

Since working with you, I have experienced nothing but a spirit of cooperation and a wonderful willingness to proceed as quickly as possible to resolve problems, answer questions, and follow the spirit of this "new era of openness." And the good news is that through my web site---with every letter being posted---more and more people are watching, and more people are learning how the FOIA process works. And that's good, and in keeping with the President's intent when he wrote: "A democracy requires accountability, and accountability requires transparency."

So again, thank you!

Unfortunately, I am going to appeal for the reasons described in the attached letter to the Freedom of Information Act Appeals Officer. Tomorrow I will send the letter following the instructions contained in your email to me.

Again, many thanks for trying to move this process along as well as you have.

Bruce Schundler
